St. Andrew's Church is usually open seven days a week for visitors, or for people who just need some quiet time in a peaceful place. Recently however, church has had to be closed due to ongoing work. Plasterwork in the chancel ceiling had become unsafe and has had to be removed. Meaning lots of scaffolding and lots of mess! Thankfully though we've been able to continue to take services during this time. We hope the work will be completed soon and St. Andrew's will be open for you every day of the week.

Please note that because of these ongoing works the exhibition by the Church Yard Art Group has again had to be postponed. When the Church has fully reopened it will be rescheduled and details reported in the Eakring Echo.
